Presidents Message ...

Deborah Roberts
President 2008-2009

Fellow Rotarians,

It's that time of the month again— to check our progress and make sure we are on track to meet and exceed our 2008-2009 goals! Below is a rundown of what we've accomplished so far. I know the numbers aren't in order; it's just because some of our projects happen in a different order than listed on the District requirements list. Did you know you can find a copy of those requirements at ever meeting? That's right; they're on the front table right next to the name badges. Take one home if you haven't already! I'm shooting for all of the requirements of a Large Club, 71+ members, because I truly believe we'll be there by the end of the year. Check the last page of the requirement for Super Club status. As hard as you all have been working, I know we can get there! And since many of the requirements overlap, we're already way ahead of the game.

Community Service: Large Club – need 5

#1 July 4th Push-N-Pull-Em Parade

#5 We've just started a new project, delivering our magazines to the Silvercrest Home and the new VA retirement home! Thank you Wendy Pazen and Gene Cherry!

#4 We are publicizing our events in newspapers and on the radio.

#6 We are participating in Reading by 9 with our books and readers at Elmhurst Elementary.

Club Service: Large Club – need 8

#2 We had a Club Assembly last month

#4 We do a fantastic job with our weekly bulletin, thank you to Bob Lynn and Jeff Hata!

#7 We've already had three "Family of Rotary" fellowship events!

#6 We've brought our booking in-house thanks to the efforts of Bob Lynn.

International Service: Large Club- need 6

#1 We are participating and looking for funding for several new projects.

#2 We are working with other Clubs and Districts with ongoing International Projects.

#5 Jan Lindsay had a presentation to the Club on The Rotary Foundation and Marc Verton will be here soon to also present.

New Generations: Large Club – need 8

#4 We are participating in a literacy program with our speaker gifts. All of the books will be donated to a local school at the end of the year. But, we won't stop there – We will be participating in the Reading by 9 Program at Elmhurst Elementary.

#1 We are sponsoring a new, community-based Rotaract Club!

❖ Jim Emch has tickets for a chance on a great TV...$25. each; only 100 to be sold.

❖ Rotary Recognition (instead of fines): Joe Strohmman asked questions from the book Three Cups of Tea, by Greg Mortenson. Mr. Mortenson has built schools in both Pakistan and Afghanistan. Correct answers were given by Andy Corliss and Chris Norstedt, whose names will be entered into the Rotary Recognition drawing for the quarter.

Happy Dollars were received from Floyd Gill, Carol Marquez-Olson, and Midge Stork.

The program was introduced by Rocky Ludes. It featured Dr. Huan who spoke about poverty in the American Colonies.

Dr. Nian-Sheng Huang, Associate Professor of History at Cal State University Channel Islands, was our guest speaker today. In the summer of 2006, before speaking to us about Benjamin Franklin, he went to Boston, to do research on poverty in the American colonies.

There have been two schools of thought about colonial poverty: 1) there were very few poor people, and 2) there were lots of poor people, so bad in fact that during the American Revolution there was a second revolution of sorts between rich and poor. Dr. Huang went to research the issue to be able to draw his own conclusions.

Colonial concept of poor.

Generally the "poor" included anyone who did not pay taxes (other than the poll tax, applicable to each individual). Taxes were not imposed on people with property worth less than £20, or whose income in a year was less than £20. If property or income exceeded this, they paid taxes and thus were not considered "poor."

The English Tradition of poor: two groups

A) Incompetent poor, including widows, orphans, aged and disabled.

B) Able-bodied poor – people who just didn't work or have profitable employment. Dr. Huang commented that this group troubles people the most, both in Colonial times as well as now.

Transient poor

These are able-bodied but had no "legal settlement." Each community determined who their residents were in order to prevent outsiders from providing an excessive welfare burden. Strangers needed to do something to show they wouldn't be a burden, such as put up a cash deposit (or have someone else do it). Otherwise they may get a "Warning Out Notice" requiring them to leave in 14 days. These notices were recorded, and number in the tens of thousands.

Colonial Boston had about 15,000 people, so to give more than 10,000 Warning Out Notices was a huge percentage. However, if a new person was able to live in the town for one year, they were no longer subject to this rule. Probably most of the poor were in this transitional state and not as desperate as some of the European poor. Their income might be 13-15 shillings per week, or £15 per year, which was enough for one person to live on, but not enough to accumulate property. Possibly 30-35% of young single males were considered poor. These young men were frequently recruited to join the militia.

Some interesting tid-bits: Even up to 1974 in Massachusetts, public support was limited to "official residents." The Common was a fair sized public land surrounded by homes and used by their livestock for grazing. But it could only support so many animals. One issue was how to deal with pigs: fence them in or let them run wild! A standard Township is square, 6 miles on a side. It must save three lots out of the township, one for the minister, one for the school and one for the common. Support for the poor primarily fell upon the local church. However there was little money in circulation as most people bartered for what they needed. The secondary support was the Township, which had some institutionalized Indoor relief by means of "poor farms" and Outdoor relief which was paying cash for work. From 1/3 to 1/2 of the Township's budget was for relief to the poor!!

Thank you, Dr. Huang, for a very interesting presentation about our early American history.
