Presidents Message ...

Jordan Eller
President 2012-2013

Fellow Rotarians:

I must begin by saying my condolences to fellow Rotarian Carol Marquez-Olson and to her family and friends: On Saturday her husband Allen Olson passed away and will be greatly missed. Please keep Carol in your thoughts and prayers as she goes through this difficult time.

This Thursday is our first meeting of 2013 and it's a special event because it's a joint meeting between our Club and the Ventura Downtown and the Ventura South Club. The venue for the meeting is at Wedgewood in Ventura where the South Club regularly meets. I have been working with Indy Batra, President of the Downtown Club and Alan Kosh, President of the South Club for many months to put this together and be a success. There will be over one hundred Rotarians present and promises to be an eventful meeting. The event will begin at 12:00 and go until 1:30. There will be a raffle and the speaker for the event was coordinated by Deborah Perkins.

Cooperation between our three Clubs moving forward to the new year can only result in the further strengthening of Rotary in our community which ultimately be a benefit to those who need our help. During my year I've been quite impressed with the willingness of these two Clubs to work in conjunction with us for any future projects.

One thing that is in the works between the Clubs in District Seven is a Rotary Festival. Indy Batra came up with the idea and it's a chance for all the Clubs in the area to come together and have a Rotary festival in which all Clubs actively participate in a day to come together and provide more exposure to Rotary in our area. The event will take place sometime this year in a local park and would be free to the public to attend. The goal would be to increase the public's awareness of what we do for our community, interact with our fellow Rotarians in the area, and potentially attract new members to our various Clubs. Funding for the event would come from each Club being dark one week and then applying the funds that would normally be spent on a meeting towards the festival. I think it's a great idea and it's something we could easily do every year. It has the potential to grow and be something to look forward to as a community event.

For those of you who keep track of the changes to Rotary International and the grants process, there has also been a clear movement towards cooperation between Rotary Clubs to work together and combine efforts when it comes to grant writing and projects. I won't go into further detail but it's a definite change requiring us to work together.

With that said, let's make 2013 a fantastic year and look forward to happiness, prosperity and good health in the new year!

As always, make it a great week!

Jordan
